JUNIOR CHAMBER TO ELECT CAMPUS QUEEN

Japan Student Bewildered At Junior College

By LINDEN CRIDDLE
Still slightly bewildered at the strangeness of American schools after spending more than two years in the Orient, tiny Shizuko Ikeda, who enrolled in jaysee last week, admitted today that attending school in Japan is an entirely different experience than she finds here.

"After such a long period of instruction in Japanese, without ever hearing or speaking a word of English, it is difficult to become accustomed to this country again," Miss Ikeda averred.

COSTA MESA RESIDENT
The recent enrollee graduated from high school in Wakayama, Japan, near the seaport of Osaka, last March. Previous to that time she attended school in Costa Mesa, where her family resides. Upon graduation from the eighth grade she journeyed overseas to live with grandparents while attending high school in the Orient.

Pointing out the differences in Japanese and Western educational systems, Miss Ikeda emphasized the fact that there are no co-educational high schools in the island empire. Standardized in schools from the elementary grades through the colleges, the school term lasts for more than 11 months, and is divided into thirds.

C. E. Line Instructs New Aircraft Class

Enrollment in the new class in metal aircraft today shows a high percentage of special students. Opening next Monday under the direction of Shop Instructor C. E. Line, classes will be held every Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 12 noon.

Among those enrolled are Rex Morris, John Collins, John and Joe Courreges, James Edwards, Bill Owens, John Roberts, and Gilbert Swint of the Associated students. Postgraduates who are taking the course are Noble Bishop and William Hoffman. The special students enrolling in the class are Robert Shaw, James Richardson, Howard Bonebrake, Bernard Paul Bulthuis, Robert Byrd, Jack Coleman, John Collins, Herbert Lawson, Wayne Leigh, John McLeod, Arthur Potter, Marvin Tucker, William Zeller, and Elmer Dudek.

ATTENTION ROOTERS!

To prevent childish behavior of students before and after the 'big game,' members of the executive boards of Fullerton and Santa Ana junior college met this week to discuss the best way to keep the rivalry from becoming merely a lawn-burning bee or a free-for-all slugfest.

It was decided that the students from both colleges should be prevented from "visiting" the other's campus preceding the game. It was further agreed that rooters from both colleges would immediately disperse after the game, following the singing of the alma mater by both the winning and losing side.

These decisions were necessary. In recent years there has been too much rough-house. If the rowdiness continues it may eventually lead to the termination of the Thanksgiving games with Fullerton.—J.Y.

Broadcast Rally Over KVOE

MRS. T. H. GLENN, wife of the English instructor here, today expressed anxiety over the welfare of her parents, caught in the war torn areas of France. Mrs. Glenn is an instructor of French at Scripps college.

Yearbook Outline Completed Today

Completion of the dummy for the 1940 Del An was announced today by Editor Jimmie Yamada. Work will soon be commenced on the literary part of the annual by the newly appointed staff.

Members of the 1940 staff will hold their first meeting at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Northross, literary adviser, Nov. 26 at 7:30. Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the staff members with their work and to give assignments to the new editors.

Faculty Meeting Slated For This Afternoon

Director D. K. Hammond stated that there will be a faculty meeting at 3:30 p.m. today in C108.

A representative from the Washington Life Insurance company will speak on the advantages of group insurance for the faculty.

Miss Mabel G. Whiting will discuss the Pacific Coast Registrar's convention which she attended last week-end at Eugene, Ore.

College NYA Time Report Cards Due Monday

College instructors were reminded today by Calvin C. Flint, NYA supervisor, that time report cards for each campus worker are due in his office by 5 p.m. Monday.

The new procedure adopted this year for reporting student time requires that each card be mailed directly to NYA headquarters.

Interview Rival Jaysee Coaches

As Coach Bill Cook's Dons often do on the turf, jaysee's football rally next Wednesday will "take to the air" via KVOE for the first such stunt ever arranged by the local college. Seats will be erected in front of College hall for the 7:30 p.m. meeting. The broadcast portion of the rally will be from 8:15 to 8:45 p.m., Jack Clark, rally chairman, announced today.

Coming on the eve of the annual "Turkey Day" pigskin encounter with Fullerton, the broadcast will include interviews of Coaches Bill Cook of the Dons and Ed Goddard of the Fullerton Hornets, a brief talk by Dean of Men Calvin C. Flint, songs, yells and numbers by the college band directed by Milton Asher.

Broadcast arrangements were made by Clark in cooperation with the special events department of the Santa Ana radio station. Broadcast time is being donated to the college as a good will gesture, Clark pointed out. Vic Rowland, former El Don editor and president of the Associated Students of jaysee, will announce the program.

Photos To Be Taken Earlier Next Fall

Planning to expand the present program for student identification cards, Director D. K. Hammond today announced that photographs of all students will be taken next year in conjunction with registration.

The present plan, launched this year, was adopted from those of larger universities in order to prevent the abusive use of Associated Student tickets.

Approximately 800 identification cards have been issued this year.

The college has a contract with H. C. Hendricks of the Stamp Photo Studio, who furnish the cards and photographs for permanent files in the office.

Minute News

Eddie Morris, national junior track champion here, was today placed in the sport idol category of Joe Di Maggio, Billy Conn, and Max Baer when he received a theatrical offer from a New York play producer to play the title role in "Wayward Son," acclaimed as one of the most unusual character studies in theatrical history.

The offer came as a result of pictures of Morris in Pic magazine last year.

The athlete is undecided as to whether he will accept the honorary role, which would take him from school near the Christmas holidays.

HOBBY HOUSE RECEIVES ASSEMBLY FUNDS

Hobby House will receive funds from the college Christmas assembly, for which an admission fee of 10 cents will be charged, Brent Wahlberg, assemblies head, said today. The program of seasonal music will be provided by the music department under the direction of Miss Myrtle A. Martin and Alan A. Revill.

SISTER OF REGISTRAR REPORTED IMPROVED

Condition of Mrs. Edith Thatcher, member of the high school faculty and sister of Registrar Mabel G. Whiting, was reported improved today. She has been confined to her home with a broken shoulder.

Rotarians Respond To El Don Plea

Santa Ana Rotarians responded today to the editorial which appeared in El Don several weeks ago urging a new college plant here. To date the local club is the only one to answer a request that they aid the junior college in securing a new campus.

The letter addressed to Editor Audree Willsey appears in the El Don mail box on page six of this issue. It was written by C. I. McDonald president of the local Rotary club.

Journalists Win Three Awards

Returning from the national Beta Phi Gamma journalism society convention at Phoenix, Ariz., this week, student journalists Bill Kamrath and Linden Criddle displayed three awards won in journalistic competition at the conclave.

Kamrath won sports writing and sweepstakes awards, while Criddle placed first in feature writing. Forty students competed in the two-hour contest which covered news writing, editorial, writing, feature and sports stories.

WINS BOOK

The sweepstakes prize was an autographed copy of "Hot Irons" by Oren Arnold, noted Arizona writer. Individual awards consisted of small silver medals, adorned with characteristic Indian symbols.

Local delegates Vic Heim and Kamrath crossed state borders for the first time in their lives when they made the journey. The winning contest feature was based on their impressions.

Men's Clubs To Nominate 25

Plans to select a campus queen to reign over the second annual New Year's Frolic to be sponsored the evening of Dec. 31 by the Junior Chamber of Commerce were outlined here today by the local civic organization.

According to arrangements completed by Bob Mitchell and Armand Hanson, former jaysee students now serving as committeemen in charge of parade entries, each of the five men's clubs here will be permitted to nominate five women for the contest.

MUST CARRY 12 UNITS

Personality of the candidate and participation in student affairs and extra-curricular activities will be the basis upon which candidates are to be selected by the men's club's, it was pointed out. Each girl nominated must be a regular student carrying at least 12 units of college work.

From the list of 25 names proposed by the local clubs, the Junior Chamber will select five qualified girls who will compete in a city-wide vote competition for the honor of serving as queen of the frolic. The remaining four will act as a court of honor, Mr. Mitchell explained.

WEDNESDAY DEADLINE

Details of the plan were outlined to local club president this week and nominations will be made at each club meeting Monday night. Next Wednesday is the deadline for entries.

Jaysee Enrollment Reaches 1154 Here

Enrollment has jumped from 1105 to 1154 during the last two weeks, Registrar Mabel G. Whiting said today.

The quota of 35 students for the airplane construction course which opens Nov. 18, was filled early this week, according to Charles Line, instructor. The course will last for nine weeks.

BEWILDERED IS THE WORD for Shizuko Ikeda, center, who finds American schools quite different from the institutions she attended in Japan during the past two years. Miss Ikeda discusses her recent enrollment here with (sitting, left to right) Michiko Yamada and Noriko Sawada, and (standing) Mary Kobayashi and Adela Nakayama, all of Garden Grove. Women To Entertain Men Tomorrow Night

Annual Semi-formal Affair Set For 9 p. m. at Memorial Hall

With music provided by Frank Koni and his orchestra, the AWS semi-formal dance will be held tomorrow night at the Huntington Beach Memorial Hall at 9 p. m.

Barbara Tucker, AWS president announced today that the band recently returned from the Tavern in Reno where they have just completed a run of eight months. They have also played at the Santa Barbara Biltmore, Huntington Hotel, and Lake Norconian club.

The dance is semi-formal and corsages are not in order for the women invite the men to this dance. This affair should be for college students, but those bringing outside students may do so, if the names were presented to the Executive Board Monday. Tickets are 25 cents for Associated students and 50 cents for a student and outsider.

WOMEN IN CHARGE

Committees in charge are Jean Dowds, orchestra; Mary Corey, programs; Dorothy Daniger, decorations; Kay Berry, refreshments.

Alpha Rho Tau To Make Christmas Cards

At a meeting to be held Tuesday evening in the art bungalow, Alpha Rho Tau members will choose designs for the annual Christmas cards.

Beginning the seventh year of making these cards, members will put them on display in C hall and sell them to those students desiring them during the next few weeks. Miss Frances Egge is club adviser.

Science Club Names 13 New Members

Accepting 13 students to membership, Phi Sigma Alpha, honorary social science organization, held its semi-annual initiation banquet, Tuesday evening at the Rossmore cafe.

Following the induction of new members by President Bill Winterbourne, dinner was served. Speaker of the evening was Alfred Meyer, 20-year-old German refugee, who left Europe six days following the outbreak of war last Sept. Meyer explained the position and attitudes of German youth under the Hitler regime.

Delegates To Attend YWCA Convention

Leaving tomorrow for the YWCA-YMCA Southern California convention which will be held in Fullerton are, Mrs. Jennie L. Tessmann, Mrs. Gail Smith, club advisers, Sara Gano, president; Roberta Corcoran, treasurer; Katherine Grimes and Virginia Claypool.

The delegates going will attend conferences during the morning. These groups will discuss problems on membership and meetings.

Piloteers Hold Formal Meeting

At a formal initiation held in the chapel of the Methodist church, Piloteer pledges became members of the club last night. Following the formal ceremony, old and new members attended a theatre.

The club's first social event will be the informal party, a barn dance, which will take place sometime in Dec.

Turkey Dinner Plans Completed By OK

Closing reservations for the Orphan Kiddies Thanksgiving day dinner, club officials today listed 12 members who have registered for the holiday affair to be held in the Women's lounge Thursday, following the Don-Hornet game.

The turkey dinner will be staged on a cooperative plan, with members sharing expenses and labor, according to Jocelyn Sims, dinner chairman.

Students who will participate include Virginia Streeter, Dick Way, Betty Halloran, Bob Agnew, Miss Sims, Milton Asher, Jo Penegal, Mason Teter, Lourene Grisette, Linden Criddle, Jesse Wolfe, and Dorothy Madison.

Society Announces New Members

Members of Sigma Phi Sigma, honorary music society, are today planning a meeting for Nov. 26. Following auditions for membership, new members are: Helen Anderson, Emily Joost, John Stout, Margaret Fields, Ann Ulseth, Ruth Holly, David Craighead, Jack Phillips, John La Monica, Blanche Patton, Charles Garrin, Monte Griffith, Ruth Compton, and Warner Spurrier.

Pledges became members at the first meeting of the club at the home of Jeanette Brown, Oct. 23. Initiation ceremony was in the form of a candle light service in which the candles were mounted on music notes. After the service new members were entertained by a concert given by old members.

The club has been discussing the plan of helping Fullerton organize a music club. If it is decided upon, Fullerton representatives will attend the next meeting here of Sigma Phi Sigma.

Drama Society Names Cast For Play

Members of the Delta Psi Omega, jaysee honorary drama society, are today rehearsing for a short play entitled "Rookie and the Rule" which will be presented in Fullerton on Dec. 1st. The cast, selected at a meeting last Tuesday evening includes Stanley Pearson, Marorie Couch, Bill Carden, and Don Dunning.

Santa Ana and Fullerton chapters are to hold a joint meeting on the above date in order to induct new members into a newly formed chapter of Santa Monica jaysee students. Initiation, refreshments and entertainment will be the order of the day.

Other business Tuesday evening included plans for giving the play in an assembly in the near future. In order to stir interest for a new jaysee, plans are also under way to give short plays before the ser-

Campus Survey Predicts Local Vote

Poll Anticipates Willkie Vote By Less Than One Percent

While several national polls were taking credit for predicting the outcome of the presidential election, a survey here today indicated that a composite of El Don's campus polls predicted Wendell Willkie's victory in Santa Ana within .5 of 1 per cent of the total vote.

In the two straw votes taken by the college paper Mr. Willkie lead by 63 and 51 per cent respectively, for an average of 57 per cent of the total campus vote. The actual count in Santa Ana gave him 9361 votes to 7185 for President Roosevelt, or 56.5 per cent.

El Don received a total of 961 votes in the two surveys. An assembly vote gave Mr. Willkie a lead of 215 to 125 for the President, while a classroom poll narrowed the count to 319 for the GOP candidate and 302 for the Democratic nominee.

Comparative figures on the polls here and actual election vote show:

	J.C. Polls	S.A. Vote
Roosevelt	43%	43.5%
Willkie	57	56.5

The national Gallup poll predicted the actual result within 2½ per cent, while the Fortune poll showed a total vote of 55.2 for President Roosevelt.

Data Results Sent To Government

Observation findings by local astronomers of the transit of the planet Mercury Monday were submitted today to the United States Naval observatory.

Using the college telescope, data on the phenomena was secured by Walter Ferris and Bruce Ragan.

Timing the contact of the planet against the sun's disc was the main objective of the observation. Uncorrected time of the internal tangency was established as 12 hours, 50 minutes, and 43 seconds after 12 noon. This figure together with observing conditions and complete description of the jaysee telescope were included in the report forwarded to the Naval observatory where final results will be computed.

Band Captures Second Place

Capturing a total of 952 out of a possible 1000 points, jaysee's band under the student direction of Milton Asher, today had a silver harp symbolic of their victory in the Armistice day parade.

Competing officially for the first time, the Dons were second to Fullerton's Hornets who took top prize in that division.

The reward is a silver harp mounted on an ebony base, with the name of the band inscribed on it.

Aiding Asher in the parade were drum majorettes Barbara Krueger, Dorothy Parker, and Virginia Pollard.

Registrar Returns From Convention

Registrar Mabel G. Whiting resumed her duties again today, after returning from a registrar's convention held at Eugene, Ore., the past week.

Suffering from an attack of influenza, at the first of the week, Miss Whiting recovered sufficiently Saturday to leave by train for the northern city.

Miss Whiting was present for the meetings held both at University of Oregon and Oregon State college.

Student Geologists Travel To Quarry

Ten members of geology 1A and H. A. Scott, science instructor, observed mineral deposits and igneous rock formations in the Jensen quarries at Riverside this week.

Students collected specimens of garnet, epidote, vesuvianite, three forms of calcite, and wallastonite to mount for further research.

Request Students Use Stamp Machine

Students requiring postage stamps to mail letters on the campus should use the vending machine in the college office rather than request stamps from office secretaries, Director D. K. Hammond said this morning.

The stamp machine was placed in the administration office two weeks ago as an accommodation to local students. It was indicated yesterday that a move may be instituted soon to secure a drop letter box in College hall rather than require that students use the stationary box at the northwest corner of Tenth and Main streets.

ARMISTICE DAY BROUGHT honors to the college's newly costumed band when it was awarded second place in the jaysee division of the annual parade through the downtown district. 'Cop On The Corner' Concludes Girls Worst Traffic Offenders

By BEN CHAMBERLAIN

Many a student, late for some bungalow class, has dashed headlong across Main street, only to be apprehended by several short, sharp blasts of a whistle. Looking around, he has seen a rather worried-looking officer in blue uniform patiently motioning him back to the curb from whence he came. This is about the only contact that most people have with the man who is generally known as "the Cop on the Corner."

Carol Ross' family has been in California for almost a century. His father, native son of Tulare, bought 575 acres of flat meadow land in 1866, on which the greater part of the city of Santa Ana is now situated. Ross was born in Santa Ana, and attended public schools here. For three years he has served as crossing guard at Tenth and Main.

When not on duty, Mr. Ross spends his time practicing the art of carpentry. After attending several night courses in the subject, he undertook to build himself a five-room Spanish style stucco house, which now stands at 1022 Cypress street. A thorough worker, he did all the labor on his home, only giving way to the plasterers and plumbers.

When asked about the particulars of his job, he grins in a says:

"I like the work fine. Of course, there are spots which are difficult but on the whole it is a swell job. The girls seem to be the worst offenders when it comes to disobeying orders. But I usually find the kinds willing to cooperate."

Students Register For Vacation Jobs

Offering the facilities of the college placement bureau to students desiring part time employment, Miss Genevieve Humiston, today advised collegians seeking Christmas vacation jobs to register with the bureau as early as possible.

Editor Makes New Change In Book

Several changes have been made in the new student directory which will be distributed next Wednesday, Editor Beverly Bertmann said today.

The new book, oblong in shape with the opening at one end, is designed to eliminate unnecessary movements in the finding of names. Included in the directory are the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of the student body and faculty, the Associated Student officers, Executive board members, Board of Education, administrators, school physician, and clerical staff.

DAVY DON READY TO SCALP INDIANS TONIGHT

Santa Ana Set For Yellowjacket Tilt

Game Time Set For 7:30 p.m. At Bowl

Turkey Day Game To Name Champs

BULLETIN
Plans were underway today for a possible broadcast by KVOE of the entire Fullerton game Thanksgiving at 1:45 p.m.

Regardless of the outcome of tonight's game with the Indians of San Bernardino, Davy Don will be playing for keeps next Thursday when he is introduced to Henry Hornet at 2 p.m. in the Fullerton bowl.

Since the Yellowjackets were bumped by Chaffey 20-13 last week, it leaves the red and black locals alone in the undefeated ranks.

AVERAGE 168

Fielding a squad which will average 168 lbs., the Goddardmen will be primed to meet the local jaysee eleven in an effort to crash the latter to defeat.

Chief threats to the Santa Ana goal line will be George Mickelwait, former Newport Harbor star and brother of the Don's Dale Mickelwait, and Eugene LaShell, 153 lb. halfback from Pico. In the line there will be co-captains Dan Drakulich and John Walker, who occupy the left tackle and right guard spots, respectively.

FILLS ELEVEN

Indian Tussle May Bulge Treasury

Football gate receipts were expected to set a new all time record tonight when the San Bernardino Redskins invade the bowl in the crucial contest with the Cookmen.

Receipts mounted steadily higher following the addition of $1249.35 which was taken in at the Pomona game last week. This figure, although only approximately half of the income of the Pasadena tilt, swelled the currency in the treasury to $8786.76.

That figure represents the gross intake of this fall, and will probably reach the $10,000 mark after this evening's game. Already Davy Don has more in his pocket than he had for all the 1939 season.

Davey vs. Henry

Showing a heavy preponderance of victories for the Dons over a period of 15 years, the Santa Ana-Fullerton log reveals that since 1925 the Cookmen have won 10 games while dropping only three encounters to the Fullerton Hornets. Two of the battles have resulted in ties, both of them by a 13-13 score.

Bleachers Erected For Wasp Game

Having arranged for additional bleachers to accommodate people at the Santa Ana-Fullerton game Thanksgiving day, Art Nunn, Hornet official, today stated that temporary stands would be erected to care for about 200 to 300 persons.

Approximately 8500 spectators would be seated, according to Mr. Nunn, who is completing plans for the annual game.

Observers agree that upwards of 9000 people witnessed the 1939 edition of the game which the Dons captured 14-7 in the local Municipal bowl.

Talked with G. Duncan Wimpers, sports editor of Fullerton's Torch, about the coming game with the boys from Hornetville and he agreed with this corner that something should be done about the after game brawls for which this annual tilt is infamous.

Quoth he: "Those exhibitions after each Don-Hornet football game are not to be proud of. I believe that such things have no place on Thanksgiving and students should act sensibly."

Athletic director Art Nunn of the same college refuses to change the place of the annual game, despite the fact that the Wasp's bowl will only seat about half of the crowd. Why don't they get wise? Fullerton will receive all the gate receipts anyway. Might as well accommodate all of the people possible.

Also spoke to Ray Nish, sports editor of the San Bernardino Warhoop, who said that Paul Taylor, starting quarterback for the Redskins tonight, helps to put out the sports page. Besides being the best footballer, Taylor writes a column for the Berdoo publication.

Attention Eastern conference schedule makers: Why do you make Santa Ana and Fullerton play away from home on the same nights? On these traveling week-ends, Orange county folks can't see a contest without traveling to another county.

El Centro advertises home football games by setting signs in the middle of the streets. They resemble our 'school crossing' placards and attract plenty of attention.

Ten Jaysee Men In Basketball League

Ten junior college men are playing basketball in the Santa Ana city church league, according to statistics released today.

The church league, which holds its games every Monday evening at the YMCA, is composed of seven teams, each representing a different church. Young men attending these various churches compose the respective teams.

Of the seven different churches represented, the First Methodists boast the greatest number of college players on their team. Five students from jaysee are playing with this church. They are Jim Faul, center; Edgar Thom, guard; Bill Winterbourne, forward; Wilson Jordan, forward; Don Cameron, guard. The Mormons are next in line with three players. They are Ed Bunderson, center; Mason Teter, guard; Ivan Lee, guard. Calvary and the Gospel Center each have a junior college on their team, Tom Beiseker, center, playing for the first mentioned team and Ed Haynes, guard, for the latter team.

The other three churches in the league are without junior college representation.

DAN DRACULICH, CO-CAPTAIN and left tackle of the Hornets, will lead the Wasps against the Cookmen on Turkey Day for the 1940 conference championship.

Conference Log

Santa Ana's football eleven were today the only team in the Eastern J.C. Conference to be left undefeated, following last week's games. Fullerton, who previously shared the undisputed lead with the Dons, had their top rating taken away from them by a determined Chaffey team that downed the Hornets 20-13.

San Bernardino's passing combination, Paul Taylor to Bob Webb, proved too much for the Riverside gridders as the Indians came out on the long end of a 13-6 score.

Considered the strongest eleven, next to Santa Ana, in the Eastern conference this season are Doug Smythe's San Bernardino Indians who invade the Municipal bowl tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Relying strongly on an aerial attack, the Indians will feature southpaw Paul Taylor who is ranked as the best marksman in the league. Taylor has given a good account of himself in all of the preceding contests and the Dons expect to hear from him tonight.

WEAK ON PASSES

Said to be weak on pass defense, Bill Cook's Dons have been drilled on this during the week's practice and are anticipating the Redskin air attack. Whether they will be able to stop it has yet to be seen, but in previous contests, namely Oceanside and Pomona, passes clicked through Don territory to great extent. Pomona's spread formation worked well against the locals.

San Bernardino brings along eleven lettermen from last season's cellar squad, but all are seasoned and will make formidable opposition, as their record shows. Included on the veteran list of Indians are Malcolm McClain, 205 fullback, ranked equal to Bob Bryant, Bob Webb, Pete Smith, Don Miemeyer, Ray Gowdy, Jim Stevens, Bill Ullom, Al Beck, and Harold Dixon.

Macaray Wins In Grid Test

Winner today in El Don's grid guessing contest was Lawrence Macaray, enrollee from Anaheim, who correctly prophesized 16 out of the list of 21 games.

However, Macaray was closely pursued by three students who missed only six out of the list of 21.

Editorial: How about selecting your yell and song leaders by appointment?

Campus hatchet-men have recently popped off at the antics of the cheer and song leaders. To some degree the pep gang deserved the verbal half-bricks that were tossed in their direction. But the type of criticism they received was not particularly distinguished for constructiveness. Instead of improving anything, it only engendered bitterness.

Further stoking up of the controversy seems unnecessary. With the football season so near its end, any drawn-out defense or condemnation of this particular group of leaders would now be like firing blank shells. Suffice to say that they are doing their best, something which cannot be said for many of the so-called rooters. And for their efforts, they are receiving far less credit than they deserve.

Yet, assuming that the dissatisfaction with the leadership reflects more than the prejudiced opinions of frustrated song-writers and chronic "beefers," it is apparent that steps should be taken to prevent the recurrence of the same sort of bickering next year.

Possibly a solution would be to amend the constitution of the Associated Students so that the yell and song leaders would be appointed instead of being elected by popular vote. That would put the blanket over those who are howling that the best men and women for the offices do not always get a majority of votes. But would appointments by ability alone be completely satisfactory to the Associated Students?

To date holders of appointive offices—like the editors of college publications and certain members of the executive board—have brought no outcry from the students. True, the analogy isn't perfect; it can be carried too far in its application to yell leaders. Nonetheless it serves as a broad example of the efficacy of appointments.

So instead of having the offices of head yell and song leaders elective, wouldn't it produce better results if these people were appointed by the President of the Associated Students when he selects the members of his executive board for the following fall?

This is only a suggestion. It is an attempt to eliminate the hard-feelings that grow out of the yell-song leader squabble which occurs each fall. You may not like this idea. At any rate, think it over.—J.Y.

Letter from the Rotary club

SANTA ANA, Nov. 12.—(To the Editor of El Don:—) Thank you for sending me a copy of your paper of Oct. 18, containing an editorial on the need for a new junior college plant.

This matter was presented at our board of directors meeting on the fourth, and was heard with interest by those present. I believe that most of us appreciate the need, our only question being as to the best way to meet it.

Under the by-laws of our organization we are not permitted to endorse projects or adopt resolutions committing the club to a particular line of support, so we are not able to take the action you suggest. However, when the time comes that college needs are to be presented to the community, I think you can count on the sympathetic interest of all our members.

Sincerely yours,

C. I. McDonald, president,
Rotary Club of Santa Ana

War hits sophomore student

Direct effect of the war in Europe was felt by Sophomore Juanita Conkle when she recently received a letter from her sister in Canada, which had been opened by the British censors. Though none of the contents of the letter from her home had been disturbed, it had been opened and marked by the government officials. This is the only letter that the junior college student has received that had been intercepted by the censors.

Miss Conkle, whose home is near Edmonton, capital of Alberta, Canada, has been away from her city for two-and-a-half years. Many of her neighbors in Canada have been called to enlist in the army. A majority of the college men, however, are completing their civil pilot training and joining the air corp, she stated.

The Canadians, according to Miss Conkle, are very patriotic and feel much the same as England does toward the war. Anti-British feeling, engendered by German Bunds, have been quieted through the dissolution of those organizations by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.—Bruce Ragan

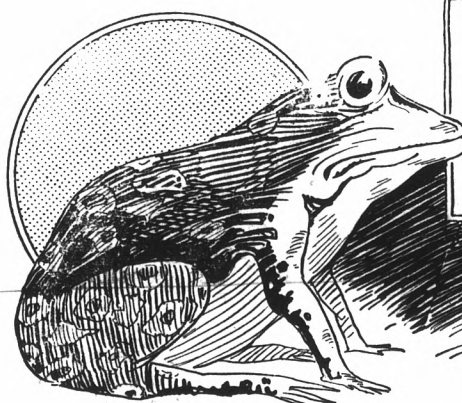

Pranks before the 'big game'

Shadowy forms stole silently about the Santa Ana Junior college campus in the cold, grey light of dawn. Several figures were grouped on the lawn, where in a few minutes, a flickering fire sprang up and immediately died again. Activity was also noticed about the flagpole and along the sophomore walk where stealthy figures flitted mysteriously about. Having completed their nefarious tasks, the marauders raced to a waiting automobile in front of the college hall and roared away from the scene of the crime.

Later the same morning, about eight o'clock irate students had gathered about on the campus at different places, witnessing the atrocities committed by the band of Fullerton students. A large "F" had been burned in the lawn by the use of gasoline, windows on the college hall were spattered and smeared with paint, oil had been poured on the sidewalks, and a Fullerton banner waver from the flagpole.

Custodian Charles Milner has witnessed these events with the passing of the years and believes that unless such activities by the students of both schools are discouraged, it will eventually result in a discontinuation of football rivalry between the colleges.

"The junior college victory flag has been stolen several times," Mr. Milner stated, "once in broad daylight. When they run their banner up our flagpole they usually grease the pole so that no one can climb up and get it down and, of course, they cut the rope so that it cannot be hauled down."—Mason Teter.

Turkey day tradition hit again

FIRST THANKSGIVING NOT IN 1621

Of all holidays, Thanksgiving takes perhaps the greatest beating. By presidential proclamation last year, it was moved ahead one week from the last Thursday of November. Now another fact turns up to sabotage the Thanksgiving tradition.

Although generally believed that Thanksgiving was first established by Governor Bradford of the Massachusetts Royal colony in 1621, actually the original thanksgiving ceremony occurred on the shores of Newfoundland in 1578, 43 years earlier.

On a day set aside for the purpose, an English minister by the name of Wollfall, who accompanied the expedition under Frobisher, which brought the first colonist to the new world, conducted services, thanking God for their safe deliverance.

LOG OF SHIP

In the log of the ship on which they came to the new shores is recorded the observation of the day's happenings: "On Monday morning, May 27, 1578, aboard the Ayde we received all the communion by the minister of Gravesend and prepared as good Christians toward God and resolute men for all fortunes, and toward night we departed toward Tilberry Hope."

It continues: "Here we highly praised God and altogether upon our knees gave Him due humble and hearty thanks, and Mister Wollfall, a learned man appointed by her Majesty's council to be our minister, made unto us a godly sermon, exhorting all especially to be thankful to God for His strange and miraculous deliverance in those dangerous places."—Don Dunning.

Some more opinions On Election Results

Neil Clark—It was a close race but the best man won.

Bob Hatch—I guess it was all right.

Myron Marten—Marvelous. It is the best thing that ever happened.

Jack Enoch—Fine. I always thought he would win.

Beryl Wilson—I didn't want a third term, but I think that Willie shot off his mouth too much.

Regine Clark—It was what I expected, but not hoped for.

Tom Beiseker—I'm glad it's over with but if he runs again I'll stop him next time.

Charlotte Buchheim—I'm glad it's over so I can listen to some decent radio programs.

Robert Stout—It was a bad day for the Republicans.

Gib Bristow—I'm a Willie man.

Marilyn Dick—I think it's swell.

Bob Schildmeyer—I didn't like the results.

Muriel Walker—It was a good fight and the best man won.

Jeanette Brown—Whoever won, it's still a difficult job.

Jack Klein—A good man lost.

Mary Towler—I'm agin' it.

Margie Fulenwider—The best man didn't win this time.

Robert Spickard—It was a good fight and my favorite won, so all I can say is "Hurray."

Jim Zornes—It's going to be a real test to get the opposing factions to cooperate.

Tom Sutton—I'm going to start drilling on my manual of arms.

John Davis—The election outcome is a clear expression of the American attitude toward the world situation. We will not be pushed around, and we will continue giving aid to Great Britain.

Betty Goode—I think it's wonderful.

Bill Davis—I got $2.40 out of it.

Milton Hobson—I didn't like it. Willie was my man.

Ed Perkins—It came out okeh.

Dick Anderson—I bet we'll be engaged in the war within six months.

Elinor Schmidt—It didn't make any difference to me.

Jean May—I wish Willie had won.

Darlene Sherfey—I'm mighty happy about it!

Anne Bell—Frankly, I was disappointed, though not surprised.

Bob Bryant—Since I'm from Texas, I guess I'll have to string along with the democrats.

Muriel Anderson—Might as well take it with a grin.

Jack Clark—I was highly pleased. I think that under an experienced man, America's foreign affairs will function better.

Whitey Rogge—I was glad to see Roosevelt re-elected. He knows the score in this national emergency.

Bob Bartholomew—Mr. Willie fought and lost the election like a true gentleman.

Barney Robinson—President Roosevelt's abilities proved again that the nation can't be wrong.

Mary Phillips—I'm glad it came out as it did.

Sophia Strother—Willkie would have made a good president.

Scott Hoepfner—Willkie would have made a good Republican president, but as the old saying goes, "Let the best man win."

Henrietta Burchell—I think it's awful!

Toni Delaney—I think it's great!

Don Paterson—It will help Great Britain a lot.

Frank Barr—The people made a wise choice.

George Henry—I'm a Republican.
